Key Risks Highlighted:

- * Property encroachment cases can be lengthy and complex; be wary of promises of immediate or guaranteed results.
- * Never sign any document, especially a Power of Attorney (Mukhtar-e-Aam), without fully understanding its implications and consulting an independent legal expert.

- * Verify all court dates and proceedings yourself or through a trusted contact; do not solely rely on your lawyer for this information.
- * Be cautious of anyone suggesting unofficial 'settlements' outside legal channels, especially if they pressure you without clear benefit or protection of your rights.
- * Ensure all original property documents (Registry, Fard, etc.) are secure; provide only verified copies to your lawyer.
- * Beware of fake legal guarantees or unrealistic promises.
- * Beware of lawyers claiming influence over judges or officials.
- * Be aware of unclear or inflated fee structures and demands for cash payments without receipts.
